

Class of 1988

*Chelsea
High School*

BEACON

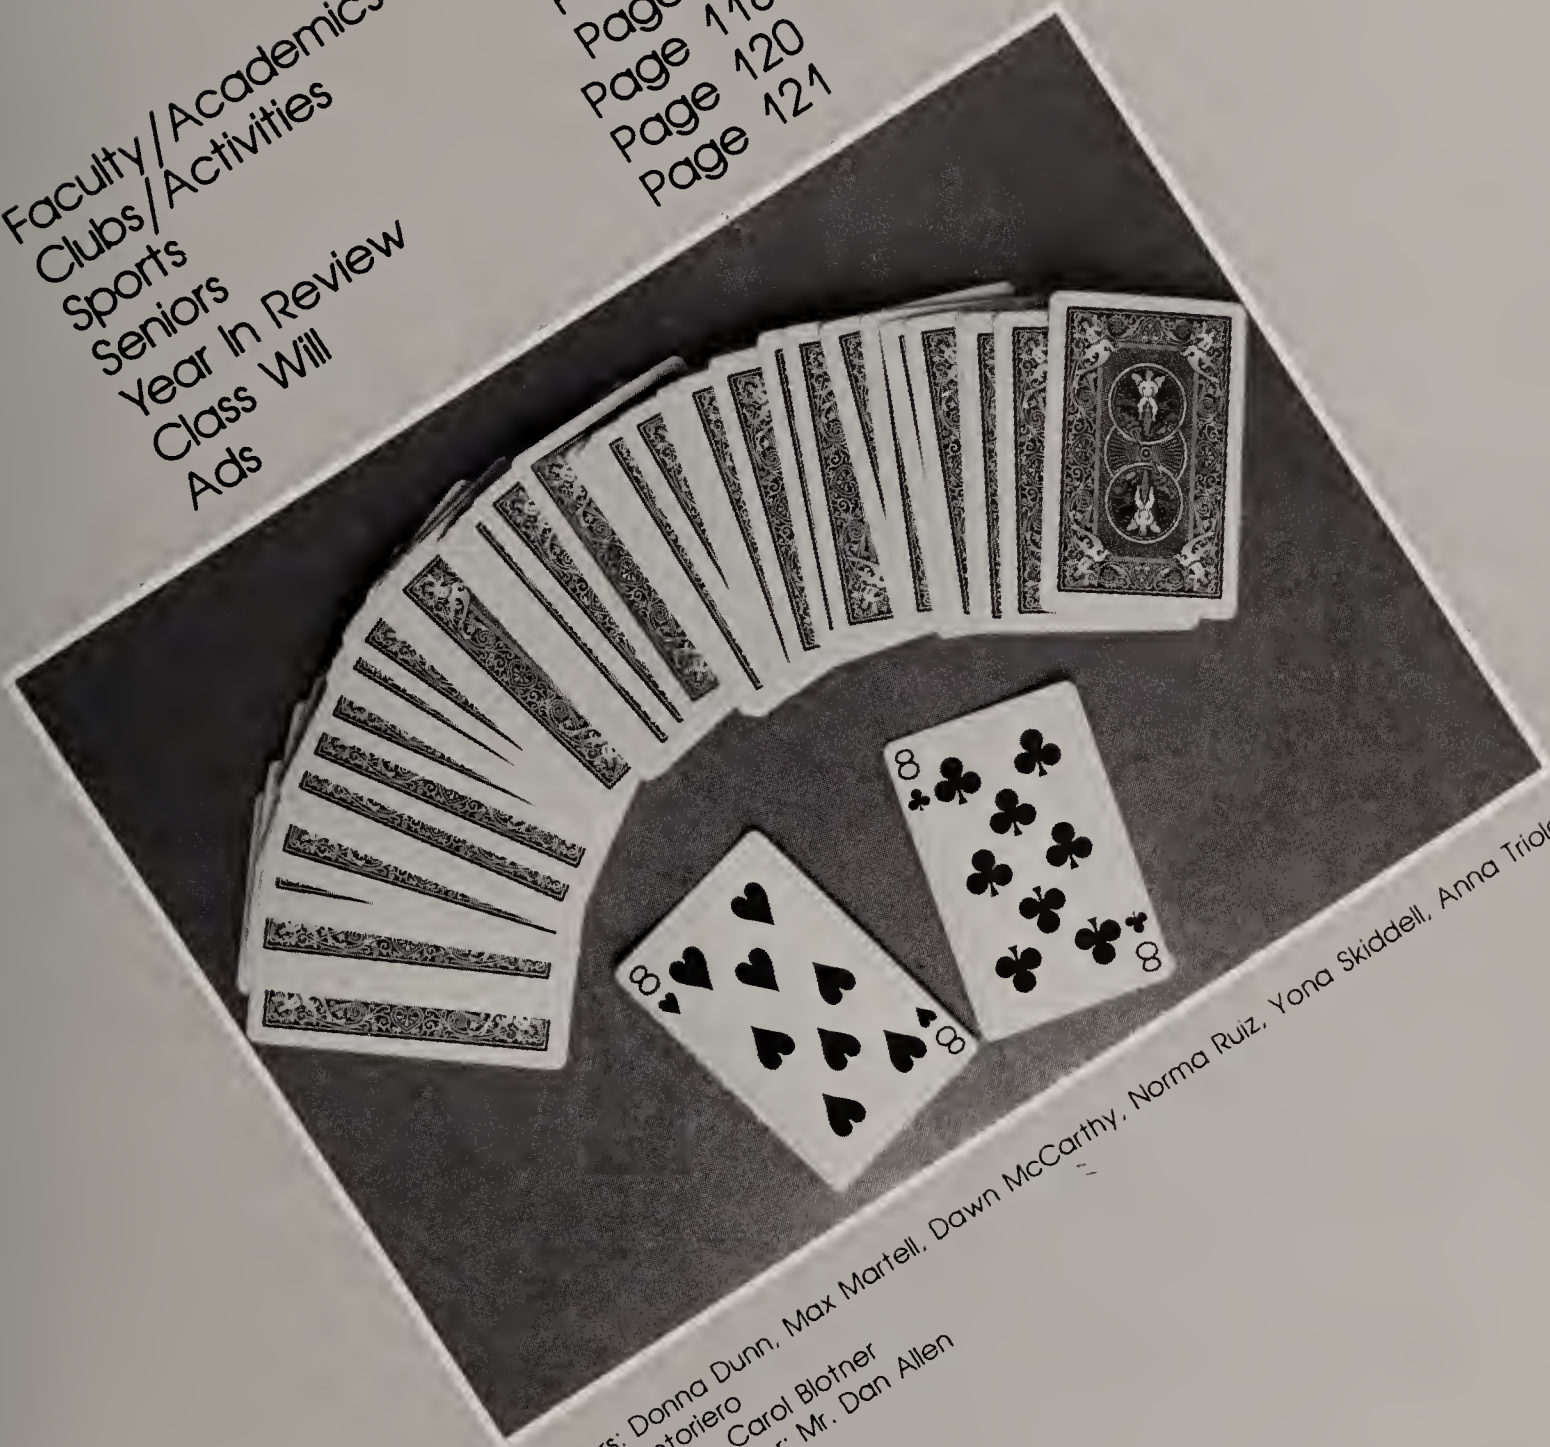

In the beginning we were just confused freshman, roaming through the halls, looking for a friend. As time progressed so did we. Sophomore year, true friendships began. When junior year came around, we knew exactly who our friends were. Now we are seniors looking out at the world. We know it will be hard to leave the friends we've known for so long, but true friends are like diamonds - forever strong!

CRAZY EIGHTS

Crazy Eights

"Crazy Eights" uniquely describes our class at Chelsea High. We're the class of '88, and we've had some crazy things happen to us in the past four years. As sophomores we came close to stealing the "Almost Anything Goes" competition from that year's senior class - an unheard of coup! We are the smallest class in the history of CHS, yet the class with the greatest expectations - we're the first class to need 100 credits to graduate! We're also the class that struggled to get advisors- for the yearbook, student council, Honor Society, but we "Crazy Eighters" were just crazy enough to tackle some tough jobs on our own. We certainly proved that even with the cards stacked against us, we could play a winning hand!

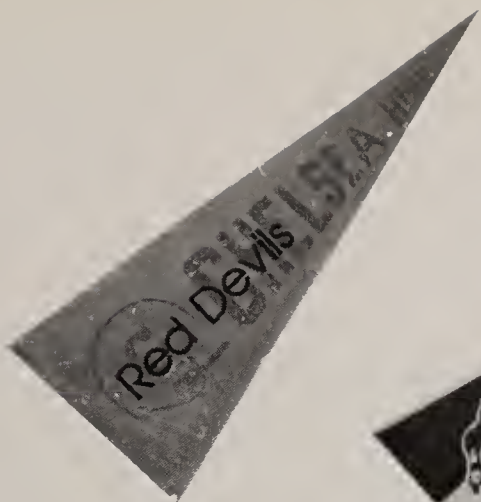

I ♥ CHS

CHELSEA PRIDE

Chelsea Pride is found in the beat of the city, the feeling that can be experienced only by living in Chelsea. Chelsea Pride has taught the Class of '88 values that we've taken into the classroom, onto the playing fields, into our homes and into our hearts. It has taught us that winning isn't as important as playing a fair game, and that top grades aren't as important as doing your best. Chelsea Pride has been our growing experience, but it doesn't end at graduation. When the cards are stacked high against us, Chelsea Pride helps us find that ace up our sleeves. Chelsea Pride will follow us into our future.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS

Now the time has come to move on out of good old Chelsea High. We've shared our dreams together, but now the time has come to make those dreams come true! We may never get another chance like this so let's play that trump card!

Each class always has one very special faculty member who gives freely of her time and efforts to help the class. The Class of 1988 has been privileged to have Mrs. Patricia Doherty Mahoney as our class advisor. Freshman, sophomore, and junior years were difficult times for the class, and Mrs. Mahoney struggled through them with us, sometimes hauling the load single-handedly. Though there were times when she felt like giving up on the Class of 1988, she didn't because she saw the potential the class had. That potential began to shine through as we approached senior year. Mrs. Mahoney, we are forever grateful for your sticking by us, and we appreciate all you have done. All we can say is two small words with tremendous meaning, "THANK YOU!"

The Science Club at Chelsea High School is a wild and crazy group. The club has been involved in many activities including field trips to the Museum of Science and the Planetarium, participation in our annual Science Fair, and a whale watching expedition. The group has meetings twice a month in room 318 held by President Carolyn Agostini and Vice-president Sylvia Motta. Suggestions come from our advisor, Mr. Slater and the members of the club. The meetings are concluded by treasurer Bruce Imbacuan collecting dues and secretary Edna Gonzales taking attendance. The club has had an enjoyable and successful school year.

"Youths Eager to Serve" is what the "YES" represents. Created and organized three years ago by Mr. Renzi, YES Club is steadily growing to be one of the most popular school activities at Chelsea High School. A YES Club member contributes at least one hour a month to voluntary community service. Such service has included: serving Thanksgiving dinner to the elderly, having a food drive to collect cans of food for the needy, helping ready the Carey House, visiting and spending time at elderly homes, and helping the Council on Aging prepare for a bazaar. Not only are the YES Club members willing to give up a little bit of time each month, but they are also a group of caring individuals, leaders of the school, and are striving to help others.

S.A.D.D. is an organization that stands for Students Against Drunk Driving. Since its beginning a few years ago, the membership at Chelsea High School has increased significantly. The club tries to increase student awareness of the dangers of drugs and alcohol by placing posters throughout the school, sponsoring essay and poster contests, selling SADD buttons, handing out SADD bumper stickers and running a strong campaign against drunken driving around prom time. Peer leader have also gone into other schools around the city to discuss drug and alcohol related issues as well as problems of peer pressure with the junior high and elementary students.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The 1987-88 Student Council came out of the gate with a bang and hasn't looked back. The council has pulled quite a few hat tricks this year like the Homecoming Dance, which transformed the gym into a night club and pulled in over 300 tickets. The group adopted a needy family at Christmas and delivered presents and good cheer to them. Also, the students met and communicated with Russian students via television satellite in an exchange program. The 87-88 student council members have been the miracle workers of CHS with a continuous flow of surprises up their sleeves.

Jobs for Bay State Graduates is a private, non-profit school-to-work transition program that provides career exploration and employability skills training to seniors. This program is in twenty-six high schools throughout the state and presently provides service to over 1,400 students. The program has been a part of Chelsea High School since November of 1984. Seniors participating in the program are taught job-readiness skills which include resume preparation, telephone techniques, interviewing techniques, application preparation, career exploration and job survival techniques. In addition to skill classes, the students also attend career oriented field trips, compete in a statewide career development conference, attend civic and leadership awareness seminars and interview potential employers regarding current job information.

Janet Hurton and Anna Triolo kept the school up to date with the Devil's Delivery this past year, while Yona Skiddell enlightened us with her "thought for the day". Every morning the three girls met in the main office to read the days events, inform us of Important meetings or any activities. Janet would always begin with a "Good morning, everyone", and Yona gave here words of wisdom just before Anna signed off wishing everyone a nice day. Here's one last thought: "To live and let live is fine; but to live and help is better." - Salada Tea Co. (for those of you who've been wondering exactly where we get those words of wisdom from!)

YEARBOOK EDITORS

YEARBOOK STAFF

This yearbook is not the only thing that we called crazy. The yearbook staff could also be called crazy, the crazy co-ordinators that is. The real LUNATICS were Mrs. Blotner, for taking all the various complaints and ideas and molding them into a book that is suited for everyone, and Mr. Allen, who went a little bit NUTS himself.

Enjoying muffins and coffee on Wednesday mornings, were the editors of the book, who really went crazy! The famous questions of these meetings were:

"Donna, did you do the artwork?", and, as usual, Donna had done the artwork.

"Yona, did you get that picture last week?", and, as usual, Yona had gotten that picture.

"Max, did you get those sports layouts done yet?", and, as usual, with a smile Max handed in the sports layouts.

"Norma, how are the ad's going?", and, as usual, Norma wrote out yet another thank you note to the local patrons.

"Silvia, how are the senior bios coming along?", and, as usual, in her quiet voice, Silvia would say they were coming along well.

"Anna, did you call the photographer?", and, as usual, Anna giggled and answered, "Yes."

"Dawn, will you write us a little more copy?", and, as usual, Dawn would hand in another sample of her creative talent.

All the editors worked hard on this book, but so many things need to be done to publish the book on time that the editors couldn't possibly have met deadlines without the additional assistance of their staff. Adding their touch to our craziness were seniors: Lisette Lopez, Nelly Caivo, Lynne Walker, Nancy Muzarol, Janet Hurton, Miguel Sanchez, Karen Anderson, Peter Lachlana, Walter Kendzerski, Michelle Doucette, Susan Winecour, Linda Beaulieu, Rose Trainito, Kork Meas, Sylvia Motta, Kris Sudanowicz, Irene Carreno, MaryAnn Rosado, Maritza Rodriguez, Libby Leung, Corey Epstein, Noel Plasecki, Sean Richards, Lillian Velasquez, Anthony Fabrizio, Gerard Furtado, Anh Nguyen, Andrew Sandelin; Juniors: Maria Carreno, Carolyn Agostini, Jose Citron, and Edna Gonzales; and sophomores: Tricia Maronski, Sharon Gross, and Steven Kwong.

The members of the National Honor Society exercise the highest qualities of leadership, service, character and scholarship. Through their dedicated efforts this year many people have benefited.

The Challenge Cup competition matches academic students from our school against students from three area schools. The schools we compete against are Everett, Malden and Revere. This year's team consists of members of the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes. Team members are Andrew Sandelin, Mai Trang Nguyen, Ruben Carrero, Jorge Pazos, Anthony Kosuk, Robert Yee, Steve Kwong, Eddie Lau, and Ahi Du.

These mad scientists are a real wacky bunch. If it's gory and gruesome they're into it. This group probes science close up and really enjoys the hands on experience. These science psychos have a great time concocting strange brews in the chemistry lab- that is, when they aren't dissecting.

FUNNY FACES

What do YOU do when a class is too boring for words? This club has come up with one solution - this "Crazy Club" develops "Crazy Faces" to perk up dull classes!

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Keeping up the spirit at the football and basketball games is the job of the varsity cheerleaders, and what a fine job they do! Not even a loss could get these girls down. During football season, the snow didn't stop these spirited young ladies, and they certainly knew how to keep the ball rolling on the all day trip to Nantucket with the team. During basketball season the girls cheered on CHS, the defending GBL champions. Spirit and fellowship kept the team alive. With the help of their coach, Robin Tiro, these girls did an outstanding job!

The 1987-88 Soccer team had a record of 7-7-3. Led by Captain Reynaldo Mayorga and seniors Vidal Valentin and Alberto Britto, they had a great year making the state tournament. Although they unfortunately lost in the first round, they were well coached by Tom Mahoney, named coach of the year in the GBL. The team has a lot of spirit and played tough. It looks like the soccer team will have a bright future.

This year's Cross Country team was led by Capt. Victor Cervera and senior Cuong Bui. Being a member of the team required stamina, fortitude, and pride. VOLLEYBALL

87-88 Volleyball Team

Chelsea High School started to have a Volleyball team this year, and the team has already shown improvements. There are five seniors, one junior, five sophomores and nine freshmen on the team.

We started to practice last August. Since this is our first season in volleyball, the team needed to learn the basic rules of the game. With the assistance of our coaches, Ms. Beverly Corwin and her twin sister Terry, we quickly caught on. The team has worked very hard, striving for cooperation and team spirit. We'll miss our graduating seniors, but we wish next year's girl's volleyball team good luck!

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

Even though the girl's basketball team record was not great, their spirit was. The team came out with the same spirit that they started with. Coach Eaves and the assistant coach, Anna Malinowski, helped the team keep this spirit throughout the season. The team was led by the highest scorer, Heather DeCoste, with over 152 points, followed by Captain Maria Carreno. Kim Newman was the team's most aggressive defense player. Yona Skiddell had the highest number of assists during the season. Norma Santiago was a strong rebounder and played good defense. Other teammates include Lynda DiVasta, Janeen Volisevich, Janet Young, Adriana Cavaracas, Terry Theberge, Tammy Theberge, Maritza Ponce, Janet Quintero, and Ellie Peters.

HOCKEY

The CHS Hockey Team had an impressive season under the guidance of first year head coach Mark Moschella. The team had many high points this year, for instance; leading the league in points was Chris Baker, and along with him his linemates, Jeff Banks and Joe Szalkowski. Together they set a new record of most points by one line in a game. The record still stands at 30. Also outstanding are defensemen Anthony Fabrizio and John Mazza. Rounding out the defensive unit was senior netminder Gerard Furtado, who turned in an excellent season facing over 35 shots a game. The highlight of the season was when Channel 5 News came to interview the first line Chris, Jeff and Joe, who were named best line in the Commonwealth Conference. This season turned out to be a great season for the CHS Hockey Team.

The CHS baseball team, under the guidance of veteran coach Joe Bevere, finished their '88 season with a 1-17 record. Although the team's record wasn't outstanding, the team did show improvement.

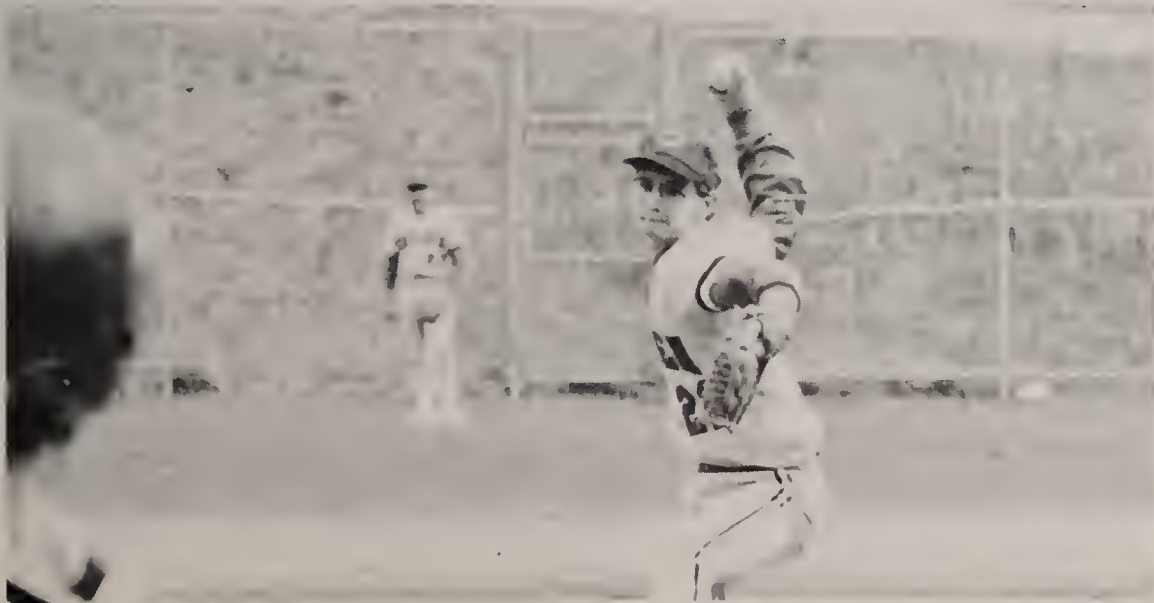

Scoring an average of 4 runs per game, and scoring in every game with the exception of one, the team, led by co-captains Max Martell and Eddie Torres, chalked up their only win early in the season when CHS literally pounced Newton Catholic to a 16-2 victory. This young team, consisting mainly of underclassmen, is due to show its strength in the coming years as they enter the Commonwealth Conference.

OUTDOOR TRACK

The C.H.S. track team of 1988 had a season both of failure and success. The team had a record of 1-6, but they did what our teams, for almost a century, have been striving for - the 88 C.H.S. track team successfully destroyed our Everett rivals by a score of 82-65!! This is only the beginning as our team is surely to be more competitive as they enter the Commonwealth Conference.

Chelsea High Student Government Day 1988 may not have given Chelsea young adults a chance to change the city, but it certainly did allow the senior class to take a role in our local government. For one day, they took over as school committee members, aldermen, and city officials with the honorable Mayor Max Martell watching over our city. On this day the class of 1988 stepped in and took over the roles of the people that had made an impact on their lives. On behalf of the senior class much thanks to the city officials for giving us this opportunity and sharing this memorable day with us.

Close Up is an annual week long seminar held in Washington, D.C. The purpose of the program is to give the students a closer look at their government in action. On February 28, 1988 six Chelsea High School students along with their teacher, Ms. Patricia McCarthy, participated with several hundred other students and teachers from all over the U.S. in a series of seminars, a tour of our nation's capital, a live theater performance, and a final banquet-dance. Students gratefully acknowledge that this program is made possible each year through the generous donations of local businesses and private citizens.

IN MEMORIAM

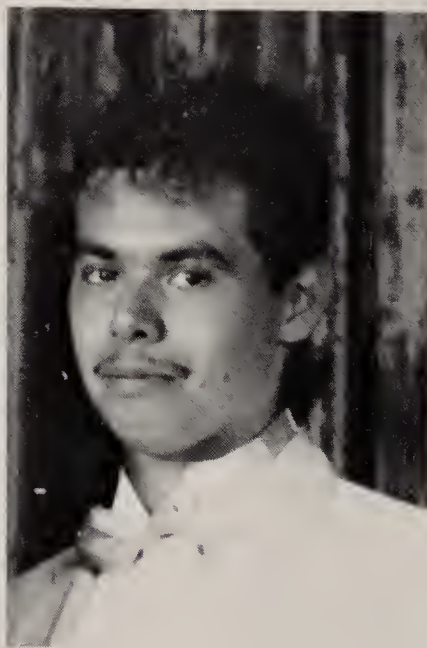

When I try and forget the bad,
Because we were friends, I feel sad.
Mourning the loss of a loving friend,
I can't believe this is the end.

As I sit and think of you,
Crying seems to be all I can do.
I shed my tears because I cared;
I cry for the memories that we shared.

Ruben, you had goals;
You were lots of fun;
I think of places you could've gone;
How you could've been number one.

When my eyes have finally had time to dry,
The need returns, and I start to cry.
As I dry the last tear from my eye,
I realize now
It's time to say
GOOD-BYE, RUBEN.
I'LL MISS YOU.
